Our Services

- Each piano is prepared and adjusted before the session (intonation, mechanical adjustments), based on the repertoire and artistic needs
- The sessions are structured to ensure the right balance between efficiency and interpretative freedom, with the possibility of multiple takes
- Support during the production phase is available for musical and aesthetic support, without interfering with the artist's identity

- Production compliant with the standards required by major digital platforms and physical distribution
- Clear timelines: from recording to publication (editing, mastering, distribution)
- Immediate access to an international audience through major platforms
- More than just publication: support in project presentation (visuals, texts, metadata, positioning)

Accessibility
